Dear Simon

Thank you for your email of 21 February 2019 in which you stated and requested the following information:

You stated:

There has been a lot of talk in the debate over the Tomorrow's Schools review about how only 6% or 7% (I've seen various numbers quoted) of schools have needed Ministry interventions, so there's no need to change the other 93% or 94% of schools to fix the problems of a small minority. It would be good to establish some facts on this.

You requested:

Can you possibly provide a chronological list of all the schools that have had Ministry interventions over the past 10 years, indicating the nature of each intervention (Limited Statutory Manager, Commissioner, etc), the dates that the interventions began and ended, and the school's decile rating?

I could then work this out for myself, but I would be grateful if you could also then tally how many schools in each decile were subject to interventions during those 10 years, and express those numbers as percentages of all schools in each decile, and the grand total as a percentage of all state and state-integrated schools?

Your request has been considered under the Official information Act 1982 (the Act).

I apologise for the time it has taken to respond to your request. Unfortunately, we underestimated the amount of time required to finalise our consultation and signoff process.

The dataset attached as Appendix A covers information for the ten years you requested. It contains the following information:

1. Notes and caveats about the information provided;
2. A separate page for each year from 2009 to 2019 inclusive of all interventions commencing in that year, including the type of intervention, the year the intervention was approved, the school name, and the school's decile number.

The total active interventions for each year may include interventions approved in previous calendar years, and so the number of active interventions cannot be compared between years. The majority of interventions are completed within two years, but the length of an intervention will depend on the requirements at each particular school. The Ministry monitors interventions monthly and reviews them at least annually.

The majority of New Zealand schools operate successfully. A small number of schools have difficulties they cannot resolve without help. The difficulties will vary between schools, but can include such things as relationship breakdowns, employment disputes, financial concerns and issues with curriculum provision. The percentage of schools with an intervention will vary according to the data requested for example, whether the data is for a particular date or over a range of dates.

We always support school boards to resolve issues themselves and only use statutory interventions as a last resort when schools need help with operational risks or risks to the welfare or educational performance of their students. When we use statutory interventions we support schools by using the lowest level possible to address the identified risks and to build board capability. A statutory intervention can provide new expertise and a fresh perspective on issues that a school has been struggling to resolve. Interventions do not have a fixed timeframe for completion, and can be active for more than one year. The majority of interventions are completed within two years. Interventions are monitored monthly and reviewed at least annually by the Ministry.

Information about the total number of schools in each decile and the total number of state and state-integrated schools is publicly available from the Ministry's Education Counts website <https://www.educationcounts.govt.nz/statistics/schooling/number-of-schools>

On 19 May 2017, the Education (Update) Amendment Act 2017 added four new intervention types to the list in Part 7A of the Education Act 1989. Information about all intervention types in state and integrated schools can be found on the Ministry's website <http://education.govt.nz/school/running-a-school/interventions-in-schools-and-kura/>

Thank you again for your email. If you have any further queries about this matter please direct these to media@education.govt.nz. You also have the right to ask an Ombudsman to review our decision on your request. You can do this by writing to info@ombudsman.parliament.nz or Office of the Ombudsman, PO Box 10152, Wellington 6143.

Yours sincerely

Susan Howan

Appendix A

A statutory intervention is a process where we support schools and kura facing operational risks or risk to the welfare or educational performance of their students. Support is provided at the governance level and the aim of any intervention is always to return the school to full self governance as soon as the recommendations of the intervention have been met. When an intervention is in place the day to day running of the school remains with the principal. An intervention may happen when a board or proprietor requests help with a particular issue or may occur after an Education Review Office (ERO) report or concern has been raised with the Ministry. When this happens, the Ministry will consider the most appropriate action from a range of options, including non statutory intervention support. The Minister of Education, Secretary for Education or their delegates have the authority to approve selected interventions.

Part 7A of the Education Act 1989 allows the Minister or Secretary (or their delegates) to approve a statutory intervention for a state or state integrated school. The Minister must have reasonable grounds to believe that the operation of the school, or the welfare or educational performance of its students, is at risk. The objective is to intervene at the lowest level possible that will address the issues identified and to build the Board and school capability to a point where support can gradually be withdrawn.

There are ten types of statutory interventions:

- 78J: The Secretary requires the Board to provide specified information.
- 78K: The Secretary requires the Board to engage specified specialist help.
- 78L: The Secretary requires the Board to prepare and carry out an action plan.
- 78LA: The Secretary requires the Board to attend a case conference.
- 78LB: The Secretary requires the Board to engage an appropriately qualified person to undertake a specialist audit.
- 78LC: The Secretary issues a performance notice requiring the Board to carry out a specified action by a specified date.
- 78LD: The Minister appoints an additional trustee of the Board.
- 78M: The Minister requires the Secretary to appoint a limited statutory manager (LSM) to carry out specific functions and powers of that Board.
- 78N(1)(2): The Minister dissolves the Board and requires the Secretary to appoint a commissioner to carry out all powers and duties of the Board.
- 78N(3): The Secretary dissolves the Board and appoints a commissioner to carry out all powers and duties of the Board (in certain defined circumstances).

This data shows interventions by the year they started. Information is based on live data and subject to change for all active interventions.

A school may appear in a list more than once (denoted by pink shading) if it has more than one concurrent intervention in place, for example a Specialist Advisor and a Limited Statutory Manager, or two Limited Statutory Managers each holding different board powers.

An intervention may be applied to a combined Board of Trustees (denoted by yellow shading). For administrative purposes, interventions applied to combined boards are tracked against one of the schools administered by the combined board. These interventions should be counted as applying to two or more schools depending on the number of schools the combined board administers. The combined boards currently subject to interventions are:

- Sir Edmund Hilary Collegiate Middle, Senior and Junior Schools.
- St Joseph's School (Invercargill), St Patricks School Night Caps and St Teresa's School Bluff (intervention is tracked against St Joseph's School).
- Lauriston School and TBC (intervention is tracked against Lauriston School).
- Carlson School (Cerebral Palsy) and Sunnyside Special School (intervention is tracked against Carlson School).
- Ngataki School and Te Hapua School (combined after the initial intervention in 2013).
- Kelston Deaf Education Centre and Van Asch Deaf Education Centre (intervention is tracked against Kelston Deaf Education Centre).

Decile reviews are usually carried out every five years. Some schools in the lists will have had a change in decile during the 10 year period of the request. The decile information supplied for each school corresponds to the school's decile at the time the intervention was applied.
